About Kenny and Tina

After being selected to compete as one of 12 teams on Amazing Race 13 and placing 2nd, we did some serious soul searching! We wanted to give back - Pay It Forward - in a more demonstrative way than we had in the past. So, we created a TV show "Adventures With Vision" highlights someone who has overcome adversity.

Our pilot episode surprises an 11-year-old cancer patient Robbie and whisks him off to Amelia Island for three days of Outdoor Adventures: kayaking, fishing, biking, golfing, Segway touring, exploring a historic fort, and sharing his innermost thoughts and experiences around a beach campfire. Robbie is an amazing young man who volunteers at Kids Cancer Camps and touches the lives of so many. We had the pleasure of attending his "No More Chemo" party a few weeks ago after more than two years of treatment. We know that Robbie will continue to make a real difference with his positive, forward thinking attitude inspiring children and families suffering from cancer.

Soytopia Tank and Amulet review by Tina Hunter

"I love the weight and feel of the soytopia tank and amulet! Also being Eco-Friendly is an added bonus. The tank's shelf bra provides adequate support and here in Florida I often wear it as a bathing suit and beach coverup! The amulet is comfortable whether I am rock wall climbing, mountain bike riding or kayaking."

Men's Soy'r 1/4 Zip Sweater

Men's Trifecta Toddy Plaid Shirt

Soy'r 1/4 Zip Sweater review by Kenny Greene

"The Soy'r long sleeve sweater is a comfortable, stylish cover that I can wear on the golf course, or in a business meeting. It is lightweight and durable, which makes it easy to pack for any trip we have scheduled anywhere in the world. Since most of the time I am in Exofficio adventure wear, it's nice to have a sweater that I can put on for any occasion when the temperature dips."
